Around Square

If Planning Commissioner Bayard Bigelow, who likes first things first and 13 copies of everything from Planning Secretary Webster Vannier, gets the bee from his friends, he might take on the city engineer job-red shirt and every-

And, by the way, our spy reports that Planning President May de Wright has vigorously taken to her knitting again, but she hasn't recently been using her thimble for a gavel.

City Hall may not know it, but it's in for a personnel shake-around soon. It's been in the wind for months.

One of the biggest attractions on the Square this week is a photo blow-up of the city - bird's eye view. Everybody diligently looks for his own house and then is surprised at being able to find it. If you haven't seen it, it's in Harry Lange's window.

Fire Marshall Russell Stone of Pasadena has been under criticism from the citizenry recently for citing a young gal who fought her own fire and did not report the davenport blaze to firemen. He clarified the situation by pointing out that fire departments aren't opposed to people fighting their own fires. But they should notify the fire department first and then squirt

It's a state law, he says. It applies, rightly, to hotels, rooming houses, apartment houses,

"There have been too many fires-major ones-resulting in heavy property damage and even loss of life-all because someone spent too much time and effort trying to put out a fire before notifying the fire department," he said.

"Remember-a fire can always get out of control or rekindle itself."

Mayor Fletcher Bowron of Los Angeles is running for mayor again this spring, and a lot of other guys are out to beat him:

The term of office is four years and pays $18,000 per annum.

Now, if you want a job with the City of L. A.—whether it be as plumber or filing clerk-you have to fill out long questionnaires as to background and education and experience and meet requirements that usually take five paragraphs to enumerate. The pay may only be $2100 a year.

But for mayor, here are the qualifications: Have $360 to plunk down as a filing fee so you can get a petition and get on the ballot. Have lived in Los Angeles two years. Be a qualified elector.

Being a qualified elector is the most important. This means being a registered voter, i. e., be able to sign your own name and be able to read the U.S. Constitution in the English Language. There is no requirement that you understand it.

The same requirements go for the other top city jobs except that the filing fees are less, based on salaries the jobs pay. Councilmen, incidentally, get $7200 and big shiny cars to drive with gas in the tanks and license fees paid.

When City Engineer Howard Brod quit town, he left something behind at City Hallphoto developing equipment. He had been lending the local Scotland Yard his "enlarger, drier, printer, cutter and trays." On recommendation of the police chief, the City Council bought the stuff for $50-about half its value, the police Dept. said, and it's good as new.

GLENN BURRIS FINALIST IN MET OPERA AUDITIONS

Tenor Glenn Burris, former Sierra Madrean, is one of six finalists to audition in the nationwide Metropolitan Opera Auditions over radio station KECA, 2:30 p. m. Sunday, March 6.

He was picked to be one of the final six contestants after winning recognition in a December try-out.

Each year there are two winners chosen, a man and woman. Both winners receive a Metropolitan Opera contract.

Glenn is now living with his wife and family in New York. He is the son of Mrs. Percy Kortkamp.

Retires from Daily Routine for More Leisurely Writing

Last week concluded "Leeside" in the Los Angeles Times, a column edited by Lee Shippey of Sierra Madre for the last 22 years. Mr. Shippey will continue his Sunday Seymour series in the Times and occasional contributions.

Mr. Shippey will devote much of his time from now on to the lecture field. His booking agent will be able to schedule more of his time which is in much demand by study groups.

$100 FINE IN TRAFFIC MIXUP AFTERMATH

Victor J. Madler, 27, of 7 Bella Vista Terrace, was fined $100 in Pasadena last week for losing his temper.

Madler and William J. Culbertson, 40, of Pasadena, bumped fenders at Walnut street and Chester avenue last December 26. In the altercation that followed, Madler assertedly used more than words on Culbertson.

Madler, who pled guilty to a battery charge, faces a $9-000 damage suit filed by Culbertson last week.

In addition to levying the fine, Pasadena Municipal Judge J. Russell Morton gave Madler a 30-day suspended sentence and put him on a year's probation.

1. The present state planning act (1945) does not give the county power over the cities, and even though the city signed the county master plan of highways of 1929, this does not commit the city to its projects.

2. On August 26, 1946, the Supervisors amended the high way plan, reducing the width of the Loma Alta Parkway from 100 feet to 80 feet west of Sier-3. The section that would run through Sierra Madre is designated as "parkway," meaning that streets would not have to conform to the 80-foot standard—that the width in the city could be variable. "No county should have the power to force a city to do to," Adams said. "After all, the people should be the bosses of what they want in their city." So far the county has not ac-

Guardsmen To March Army Day

As part of an extensive Army Day program, the Sierra Madre Heavy Mortar Company will join with other National Guardsmen tomorrow night, when the entire 223rd Infantry Regiment of the 40th Division, plus the 40th Division Band, march in Los Angeles. The parade starts at 7:15 at Washington Blvd. and will march down Broadway to the City Hall.

In conjunction with the training schedule of the 223rd Regiment, two lectures were given to the enlisted men and officers at Monday night's meeting in the City Hall Dugout. The fuse of the 4.2 inch chemical mortar was explained by PFC Thomas Cox. PFC Robert Barr talked on the movement and employment of an armed force.

The Pacific Electric Railway Company this week asked the California Public Utilities Com-Planners Seek Law to mission for permission to substitute buses for rail service on the Los Angeles-Sierra Madre

Rail Service

The Sierra Madre line was one of eight which the company hopes to abandon in favor of buses. Four other lines would be abandoned altogether, according to the petition.

Pacific Electric said it proposed to put eight buses on this run with "additional buses if and when required to meet the needs of the public." This would mean that the buses, at least during off peak hours, would make the run, as they do now, to San Marino. At that junction passengers would transfer to Los Angeles bound

This change-over on the Sierra Madre line would result in a "net operating loss of $2533 annually as against the present rail passenger operation on this line at an annual net operating loss of $64,618," the petition stated.

The company said that the overall change to bus service with the exception of a few rail lines which would continue in operation, would allow the company to show a profit instead of an annual deficit. This deficit last year was $2,500,000, it was pointed out.

In addition to the Sierra Madre line, the Pasadena and the Glendora - Monrovia - Arcadia rail lines would be abandoned. The Public Utilities Commission will hold public hearings on the petition before issuing a decision. The commission last summ allowed the P. E. to substitute buses in Sierra Madre during off-peak hours.

Miniatures

The Art of Painting in Little

It is an established fact, that as a rule a great portrait painter is also an accomplished miniaturist. Horace Walpole, connoisseur of miniatures, once remarked: "If a glass could expand Cooper's pictures to the size of Van Dyck's, they would appear to have been painted for that proportion." Holbein, Goya and other fa mous portrait painters turned out miniatures, which reflected

LEGION AUXILIARY BIRTHDAY PARTY AT ROBERTS HOME

Anecdotes of early activities of Sierra Madre American Legion Auxiliary were shared with forty members including Charter members and Past-Presidents last Tuesday night when the Unit met at the Harold Roberts' home, 306 E. Alegria St., to celebrate their 24th birthday anniversary and that of George Washington.

Historian Maybelle Barker gave a short resume of the organizing of the Unit, February 12th, 1925, at the City Park House. She introduced the honored guests, the Charter members and Past-Presidents including Leila Roberts, Ora Olsen, Elva Layton, Nina Railsback, Elva Reavis, Elizabeth Steinberger, Mabel Medley, Lucille Pickett, Maybelle Barker, Leila Embree, Minnie Stinman, Kitty Miller, Bertha Irvine, Sylvia Quittner, and Lucille Nollac. Letters from Ellen Evans of Lancaster and Orcelia Stinman of Georgetown, were read.

Eighteenth District President and Vice-President, Jessie Spear of Alhambra and Mary File of Altadena, extended greetings from the District and Commander Yodow of the local Post sent felicitations. A short program followed. Sylvia Quittner accompanied by Mrs. Seager, sang a group of songs and Ora Olsen showed colored slides of her summer's trip to Lake Tahoe and Northern California and Nevada. A delicious buffet was served in the dining room. The table was especially beautiful with a center piece depicting a miniature cherry tree covered with red hatchets and also featuring a huge birthday cake decorated with the American Legion Auxiliary emblem. Mrs. Ben Medley of imagine how pleased I was when I was notified that the Balling Baby Shop was to be the official Girl Scout Agency for this area. Having three daughters, interested in Girl Scouts for years. The appointment is an honor I am proud of, and will do everything possible to live up to.

THE OPENING of the Girl Scout Shop will be announ-ced next week, to take place March 12. In the meantime we are building new shelves and drawers, painting the entire interior of our store, and rearranging most of the merchandise to make room for a trim and neat Girl Scout department, right up by the front door.

LANAMERES ARE HERE, TOO! We just received the most beautiful line of Lana-Knit and Lanamere sweaters for girls. The Lanamere short-sleeve slip-ons are 4.95, cardigans 7.95. The Lana-Knit short sleeve slip-ons are 5.95, and cardigans 8.95. All pre-teens, teen-agers and their mothers know what nice sweaters these are, so nuff said.

CUTEST THING we've received this season at the Balling Baby Shop are the "Pin-Ups" designed by Phil Riley for children's walls. They are large, thick cutouts of four favorite nursery thermses "The Cat and the outs of four favorite nursery rhymes, "The Cat and the Fiddle," "Little Bo Peep," "Mary Had a Little Lamb," and "Jack Be Nimble." There are three or four separate pieces in each set, and you arrange them and hang them on the wall. Some people get all four sets and decorate all four walls. Their gay colors really make the room sing. And they are only $1.95 per set.

MOST CAREFULLY DESIGN-ED dresses for little girls 6 months to 18 months old are the VANTA knit dresses. The specially designed shoulder gives complete comfort without the use of any buttons at all. The fine knit material requires no ironing. No wonder Vanta garments are recommended by so many infant experts, physicians and nurses. We have the dresses in blue and maize. $1.95, including panties to match.

THIS SPRING our store looks the nicest it has been since we opened three years ago. And I believe the merchandise is the best and most interesting I've seen. Makes it a real pleasure to be an independent enterpriser in the United States of America, supplying the wants of good American families. We want to remind you that we will not be open Friday evenings. BALLING BABY SHOP, Monrovia 20411.

KIWANIS BALL GAME Colorful Paintings COMING UP

The Kiwanis sponsored baseball game, All Star versus Hollywood, will be held Sunday afternoon, March 13, at Gilmore Field, Los Angeles.

Tickets at $1.25 can be secured from Al Foxton, Kiwanis committee chairman of Boys and Girls Work, and from Bill Bodley. Foxton can be contacted at the Chevron Service station.

"If you can't go yourself," Foxton said, "buy a ticket for one of our Boy Scouts."

MEXICO CITY

A two week holiday in Mexico City ended Sunday evening for Mrs. Sam Haskins, 171 West Orange Grove. She traveled with a group of friends including Mrs. John McLaren of San Glendale, presided at the coffee urn while the president, Anne Willumsen did the honors of cutting the cake. Guests gathered around the table singing "Happy Birthday" and honoring the Unit, George Washington and the Unit President Mrs. Willumsen also Mrs. Leola Lyons, whose birthday falls on that date.

Hostesses for this affair were Charter President Leila Roberts and the second Past-President, Ora Olsen. The next meeting of the Unit is March 10th at the home of Mrs. Thelma Proctor, San Gabriel Court, at 8 o'clock.

Of Spain Exhibited At Old Brick Oven

An exhibit of 12 large paintings by Jose Drudis-Biada, native of Spain, now American citizen and resident of Sierra Madre, is on view for a short time at the studio of Alfred Dewey, 28 Windsor Lane, opposite City Hall.

These pictures were borrowed by Mr. Dewey for the Arts Guild monthly meeting last Friday evening, when Mr. Drudis gave an interesting and much appreciated talk on the subject "A Painting Trip through Spain." The paintings include realistic representations of ten outdoor scenes in Spain and the sunny island of Majorca, one of Cathedral Rocks in Yosemite National Park, and an interesting self-portrait.

The pictures proved so absorbing to Friday evening's audience as to suggest that many other townspeople would welcome the opportunity to see them, with the result that Mr. Dewey persuaded the artist to prolong the loan. Accordingly, the exhibit will be on view to the public, free of charge with the excention of Tuesday evening. daily and evenings, until March 12.

And no art lover will want to miss the current "Little Gallery" show at City Hall, where seventeen local artists have their recent paintings on

Miniatures

The Art of Painting in Little

It is an established fact, that as a rule a great portrait painter is also an accomplished miniaturist. Horace Walpole, connoisseur of miniatures, once remarked: "If a glass could expand Cooper's pictures to the size of Van Dyck's, they would appear to have been painted for that proportion." Holbein, Goya and other famous portrait painters turned out miniatures, which reflected their technique, style and col-

The work of a miniaturist however, differs from that of the painters in oil in as much. that miniatures are usually executed in watercolor washes, by stippling and hatching method. Cummings, a great miniaturist, writes as follows: "If the color is laid on in lines in various directions, leaving spaces equal to the width of the line between each, finally producing an evenly lined surface, that method is called "hatching." If, having arrived at this point in our operations we now place tiny dots of color in the interstices of the lines until the whole has the appearance of having been stippled from the beginning that method is called "hatching and strippling"." Of all the different materials used by the miniaturist, such as backs of playing cards, porcelain, mother of pearl, gold and ivory, the last mentioned, has been, and is by far the most popular, for the surface of a planchette of ivory can be made smooth as glass, its grain readily covered up with the opaque water color washes and if guarded from damp and excessive temperature changes, it can be prevented from cracking. A miniature is a delicate article. It should be protected by glass, put in a suitable frame and placed in a cabinet, not hung on a wall as the effect of sunlight is apt to change certain colors. So we see that the surface upon which a miniature is going to be painted must be without blemish, as the size of the article naturally magnifies a hundred fold any flaw in texture or handling.

The value of a miniature to a collector is determined by the following factors: The artist, its clear coloring, the subject, flawless execution and breathtaking loveliness. For the miniatures by Holbein of Henry the VIII, the fantastic price of $250,000 was paid. It is now to be found in the Victoria and Albert Museum in London. For a Cosway, Plimer or Cummings, you may expect to pay $500 and up, while the miniature of a gentleman by John Ramage (American 1763-1802), brought $60 in 1947. As a miniature is a small object and the names of the artists who make them, would take up considerable room ,they usually sign them on the reverse side or they initial them, or in many cases, don't sign them at all.

In the 17th, 18th and 19th centuries, miniatures were very popular not only as small portraits, but in the last days of the French court (1780-1790) we find exquisite miniatures on "carnets de bal" (dance programs). The usual decoration for the case of a "carnet de bal" was a setting of gold, enamel and jewels, into which was introduced a miniature scene or portrait either in enamel or watercolor, painted on ivory, in the latter instance always with addition of a protecting cover of crystal (see "Coronet" February 1937).

The exquisite pastoral scenes by Antoine Watteau (1684-1721) on jeweled silk fans, the staves of which were usually made of carved ivory are miniatures of the highest order as are the snuff-boxes with miniatures by Boucher, Fragonard and others. Gold and jeweled watches at that time were often decorated with miniatures of scenes or likenesses of famous beauties of the period.

One use of the miniature as a decoration is however not so commonly known, as a matter of fact the British government had to put a stop to its prac-

Toward the end of the 18th century, it became the practice, especially in England, by the nobility and wealthy gentry, to furnish the male friend and relations with expensive rings and the ladies with jewel-set lockets upon the death of a friend or relative. These trinkets, started as a token of remembrance, sweet and inexpensive, but as the fad progressed became so elaborate and expensive, that in many cases it made paupers of the ones left behind and it became necessary for the government to step in and to put a stop

Last Rites for R.W.Solomon

Robert W. Solomon, a native Californian and a 20-year resident of Sierra Madre passed away last week at St. Luke's Hospital after a brief illness. Solomon was 63 years old and lived at 657 West Grandview avenue.

He was a graduate of the University of California in the class of 1910, and was a veteran of World War I. He was well known for his private philanthropies and unassumingly helped a great many people through difficulties.

Solomon is survived by his wife, Frances S. Solomon, two brothers.Dr. W. O. Solomon of Oakland and Olof Stearns, and a sister, Mrs. Anne Garrett. Services were held last Monday at the Congregational Church with the Reverend Carl Smith officiating. Commital was private at Pasadena Mausoleum.

SERVICES FOR LOCAL WOMAN

Services were held last Saturday at Grant Chapel for Mrs. Charlotte Wyley Gahan, 308 Grove street, who passed away last week at Long Beach Naval Hospital after a long illness.

Mrs. Gahan was a practical nurse and had lived here since

She is survived by her son, Gerald F. Gahan, Long Beach Naval Station: a sister. Minnie Bullock, and a brother, Harry Wyley, of Globe, Arizona. Interment was at Live Oak Cemetery.

LEGION AUXILIARY BIRTHDAY PARTY AT ROBERTS HOME

Anecdotes of early activities of Sierra Madre American Legion Auxiliary were shared with forty members including Charter members and Past-Presidents last Tuesday night when the Unit met at the Harold Roberts' home, 306 E. Alegria St., to celebrate their 24th birthday anniversary and that of George Washington.

Historian Maybelle Barker gave a short resume of the organizing of the Unit, February 12th, 1925, at the City Park House. She introduced the honored guests, the Charter members and Past-Presidents including Leila Roberts, Ora Olsen, Elva Layton, Nina Railsback, Elva Reavis, Elizabeth Steinberger, Mabel Medley, Lucille Pickett, Maybelle Barker, Leila Embree, Minnie Stinman, Kitty Miller, Bertha Irvine, Sylvia Quittner, and Lucille Nollac. Letters from Ellen Evans of Lancaster and Orcelia Stinman of Georgetown, were read.

Eighteenth District President and Vice-President, Jessie Spear of Alhambra and Mary File of Altadena, extended greetings from the District and Commander Yodow of the local Post sent felicitations. A short program followed. Sylvia Quittner accompanied by Mrs. Seager, sang a group of songs and Ora Olsen showed colored slides of her summer's trip to Lake Tahoe and Northern California and Nevada.

A delicious buffet was served in the dining room. The table was especially beautiful with a center piece depicting a miniature cherry tree covered with red hatchets and also featuring a huge birthday cake decorated with the American Legion Auxiliary emblem. Mrs. Ben Medley of

BY MAXINE BALLING GIRL SCOUTS: You can well magine how pleased I was when I was notified that the Balling Baby Shop was to be the official Girl Scout Agency for this area. Having three daughters, I've been interested in Girl Scouts for years. The appointment is an honor I am proud of, and will do everything possible

THE OPENING of the Girl Scout Shop will be announced next week, to take place March 12. In the meantime we are building new shelves and drawers, painting the entire interior of our store, and rearranging most of the merchandise to make room for a trim and neat Girl Scout department, right up by the front door.

LAN AMERES ARE HERE. TOO! We just received the most beautiful line of Lana-Knit and Lanamere sweaters for girls. The Lanamere short-sleeve slip-ons are 4.95, cardigans 7.95. The Lana-Knit short sleeve slip-ons are 5.95, and cardigans 8.95. All pre-teens, teen-agers and their mothers know what nice sweaters these are, so 'nuff said.

CUTEST THING we've received this season at the Balling Baby Shop are the "Pin-Ups" designed by Phil Riley for children's walls. They are large, thick cutouts of four favorite nursery themses "The Cat and the outs of four favorite nursery rhymes, "The Cat and the Fiddle," "Little Bo Peep," "Mary Had a Little Lamb," and "Jack Be Nimble." There are three or four separate pieces in each set, and you arrange them and hang them on the wall. Some people get all four sets and decorate all four walls. Their gay colors really make the room sing. And they are only $1.95 per set.

MOST CAREFULLY DESIGN-ED dresses for little girls 6 months to 18 months old are the VANTA knit dresses. The specially designed shoulder gives complete comfort with-out the use of any buttons at all. The fine knit mater-ial requires no ironing. No wonder Vanta garments are recommended by so many infant experts, physicians and nurses. We have the dresses in blue and maize. $1.95, including panties to match.

THIS SPRING our store looks the nicest it has been since we opened three years ago. And I believe the merchandise is the best and most interesting I've seen. Makes it a real pleasure to be an independent enterpriser in the United States of America, supplying the wants of good American families. We want to remind you that we will not be open Friday evenings. BALLING BABY SHOP, Monrovia 20411.

KIWANIS BALL GAME Colorful Paintings COMING UP

The Kiwanis sponsored baseball game, All Star versus Hollywood, will be held Sunday afternoon, March 13, at Gilmore Field, Los Angeles.

Tickets at $1.25 can be secured from Al Foxton, Kiwanis committee chairman of Boys and Girls Work, and from Bill Bodley. Foxton can be contacted at the Chevron Service

"If you can't go yourself," Foxton said, "buy a ticket for one of our Boy Scouts."

MEXICO CITY

A two week holiday in Mexico City ended Sunday evening for Mrs. Sam Haskins, 171 West Orange Grove. She traveled with a group of friends including Mrs. John McLaren of San Glendale, presided at the coffee urn while the president, Anne Willumsen did the honors of cutting the cake. Guests gathered around the table singing "Happy Birthday" and honoring the Unit, George Washington and the Unit President Mrs. Willumsen also Mrs. Leola Lyons, whose birthday falls on that date.

Hostesses for this affair were Charter President Leila Roberts and the second Past-President, Ora Olsen. The next meeting of the Unit is March 10th at the home of Mrs. Thelma Proctor, San Gabriel Court,

Of Spain Exhibited At Old Brick Oven

An exhibit of 12 large paintings by Jose Drudis-Biada, native of Spain, now American citizen and resident of Sierra Madre, is on view for a short time at the studio of Alfred Dewey, 28 Windsor

Lane, opposite City Hall. These pictures were borrowed by Mr. Dewey for the Arts Guild monthly meeting last Friday evening, when Mr. Drudis gave an interesting and much appreciated talk on the subject "A Painting Trip through Spain." The paintings include realistic representations of ten outdoor scenes in Spain and the sunny island of Majorca, one of Cathedral Rocks in Yosemite National Park, and an interesting self-portrait.

The pictures proved so absorbing to Friday evening's audience as to suggest that many other townspeople would welcome the opportunity to see them, with the result that Mr. Dewey persuaded the artist to prolong the loan. Accordingly, the exhibit will be on view to the public, free of charge with the exception of Tuesday evening, daily and evenings, until March 12.

And no art lover will want to miss the current "Little Gallery" show at City Hall, where seventeen local artists have their recent paintings on

THE ENTIRE CITY SHOULD LISTEN TO THE COMING RECREATION REPORT

On March 14 the State Recreation Commission will present its survey to Sierra Madre.

This survey will give an expert's view of what Sierra Madre has to offer to the youth of the city and what can be done to increase and improve existing facilities.

The state's recreation expert, Ferdinand A. Bahr, spent more than a month on the survey, and it will include an evaluation of both private and public recreation.

He has asked the civic organizations to take part in studying the proposals and working them out. The Chamber of Commerce. Lions and Kiwanis Clubs, the veterans' organizations, the P.-T.A., the Civic Club—they should all be represented at the joint meeting of the City Council and the Recreation Commission at 8 p. m. in the City Hall on March 14.

The entire city should seriously study this report. We all have a stake in adequate recreation and its proper administration.

The Hopper subdivision made the commission's agenda again, and former City Attorney Thomas A. Reynolds appeared in an attempt to get it approved for his client, Charles Hopper. The City, at the same time, is trying to get Grove street widened and extended to Carter avenue through the Hopper were drawn up for the Court of

"Mr. Reynolds now seems bothered by his own ordinance," City Attorney Cornyn said.

"I'd be the last person to ask a violation of the ordinance since I am responsible for it," Reynolds said.

"I ask Mr. Reynolds what he would do in my place," Cornvn said. The matter was referred to him for further study. A subdivision, with restrictions, was approved for Charles E. Louk at Manzanita avenue and Lima street. An attempt is being made to get Manzanita widened to a full width street at that point.

The commission also:

1. Rejected the subdivision of E. R. Mitchell who asked that he be allowed to divide a 90foot lot into two 45-foot lots at 119 Esperanza street. He was told that no action could be taken until an engineering plot plan is completed for a proposed street south of Sierra Madre boulevard. This proposed street is now before the City Council. At its meeting last week the Council delayed action on bids for this engineering work.

VISITING NURSES ASSOCIATION ANNUAL MEET

Mrs. May de Wright and Mrs. Florence Peterson attended the annual meeting of the Visiting Nurses Association of Pasadena last Monday. The meeting was held at the San Marino home of Mrs. Preston Hotchkiss and annual report of the Association was given.

Mrs. de Wright is a member of the Association and Mrs. Peterson is Sierra Madre's Red Cross worker. The local Red Cross provides the services of the visiting nurses for many patients here not able to provide the service for themselves, Mrs. de Wright pointed out.

"The Red Cross here pays for the service if the patient can't and if some other organization does not assume the care," she said. "In other cities where there is a Community Fund, such care is usually taken care of by that organization."

The Visiting Nurses Association is largely supported by funds from Community Chests and other organizations, the County, memberships and gifts, Sierra Madre Red Cross in addition to the payments made by patients for the service.

"The payments made by the patients last year totaled only around $16,000 of the $51,000 needed to carry on the work of the organization for the year," Mrs. de Wright said.

The Pasadena Association last year cared for 2208 patients and made 19,360 visits.

He said that he would go into the problem as soon as he returned from Washington, D. C. next week.

Mrs. May de Wright, president of the City Planning Commission, told the Council that several subdivisions in the northwest section of town had been held up because of the proposed highway.

The highway, which has bothered the Planning Commission and the Council, would enter Sierra Madre on the west just south of the northern city limits. It would continue to Carter avenue to Baldwin and then down Baldwin to Grandview. It would go east on Grandview along the foothills to Monrovia.

The Council also was told that engineering preparatory to the dedication of Churchill Road in the Terrace district is completed. .. The city engineer was instructed to prepare necessary deeds to complete the project that has been hanging fire for years.

And the police department got its new car-a Ford.

It will cost the city $629.80 with the trade in allowance of $1150 for an old Ford. Carl Hansen was the low bidder. A couple of Chevrolet dealers were slightly higher.

The car was bought after the Council found that the police East Sierra Madre boulevard department had $840 left in its capital outlay budget. Desert Wild Flowers Most Intriguing This Spring

Now is the time to head for the desert regions to witness an unusual display of wildflowers. Varieties seldom seen are now in profusion in some areas. This includes the rare "ghost" flower. At this time the Salton basin and the Colorado desert regions are at their best. Later on the Mojave desert, Antelope and Death Valley areas will be splendid for flower lovers, painters and color photo en-

At its meeting last week the City Planning Commission, on motion of President May de Wright, passed the following resolution commending City Engineer Howard W. Brod who left this week to become city manager of San Carlos:

"I should like to move that this body spread upon its minutes a motion of appreciation for the great assistance to the Sierra Madre Planning Commission which Assistant City Engineer Howard W. Brod has given this body.

"While Mr. Brod has been with us we have been able to accomplish more work and achieve more efficient results than in many years previous to his coming.

"Without him we were forced to delay decisions brought to us by our fellow citizens which involved their finances, not because we were unmindful of our neighbors rights, but because we lacked the ever ready assistance of a competent city engineer to advise us of our necessary technicalities which no one untrained in civil engineering could be expected to possess. "In making this motion, I include the request that a copy be sent to Mr. Brod and another to the City Council of San Carlos, California, so that that city may know that the Planning Commission of Sierra Madre feels that the good fortune of San Carlos in obtaining Mr. Brod's services is our great
